The Performing Arts Center offers the following seating zones for most performances. Ticket prices for each zone will vary by performer.

The sections available for seating include:

- Lower Orchestra: First two rows from the stage
- Orchestra: The next eight rows behind the orchestra
- Upper Orchestra: The last eight rows in the main section of the hall
- Balcony: Five elevated rows in the rear of the hall
- Elevated Left: Sixteen seats on the stage-left side, near the front
- Elevated Right: Sixteen seats on the stage-right side, near the front

There are two wheelchair-accessible seats in the second row of the hall (Lower Orchestra), and two more in the last row of the Upper Orchestra.
